May Media is a bespoke creative graphic design service brought to you by myself, Simon May. Based in my home town of Cirencester, I have 24 years of creative industry experience to offer my valued customers.

With a diverse client-list ranging from the industrial sector through to 5-Star hotels, private schools, national and international organisations, I have consistently proven to be a totally reliable and indispensable creative asset with no shortage of ideas and expertise, no matter what the creative brief - or indeed NO client brief at all!

Possessing a wealth of print industry knowledge, I create all of my own artwork and am comfortable with any project ranging from an initial brand concept through to any form of artwork creation - for both print and digital application.

If you would like me to pop in for a chat about what I can do for you, please get in touch:
